

Your Patients Count on YOU

The annual influenza season really puts a strain on nurses like you. And when you have the flu, you cannot provide good care. Not only that, you can pass the virus on to vulnerable patients.

That's why it's important for every nurse to protect themselves, their patients and their families by getting a flu vaccine every year.

Protect yourself.
Protect your patients.
Get your flu vaccine.

